Theme of conference:

We are organizing an international conference on 'Nursing Excellence: Education, Ethics, Evidence, and Empowerment' for nursing students, educators, administrators, and researchers. Nurses play a pivotal role in healthcare with dedication, knowledge, and compassion as guiding principles, and make profound differences in countless lives.

Excellence in nursing is not merely a goal but a responsibility and lifetime commitment of every nurse as an ongoing pursuit for the highest standards and continuous improvement. It is possible when knowledge of education, empowerment, ethics, and research-based views are clear and concrete in each nurse. Our conference is a testament to this commitment to excellence. It is a journey into the world of nursing excellence, where education is the foundation of progress, empowerment is the driving force, ethics are the moral compass, and evidence is the path to innovation. Our international conference aims to collaboratively co-create transformative strategies for excellence in nursing education, ethics, empowerment and evidence-based practice at all levels of nursing, through presentations, interactive discussions, and group activities by eminent international and national nursing faculty.

Aim: To collaboratively co-create transformative strategies on education, ethics, evidence and empowerment to strive for excellence in nursing at all levels.

Objectives:

1. To provide an innovative platform to collaboratively contemplate and bring about transformative strategies for excellence in nursing education.
2. To provide a forum to discuss and develop frameworks for ethical behavior and practice for nurses at all levels.
